Construction

Drawing on decades of experience, FTI Consulting has a proven track record in helping clients prevent, manage and resolve construction issues.

We provide project advice, construction claims analysis and expert witness services for some of the world's most complex, high-profile projects within a variety of sectors, including infrastructure, real estate, mining, oil and gas, utilities and renewables.

In this team, you'll be working on:

- Forensic delay & quantum analysis
- Project planning & quantity surveying
- Commercial & contract management
- Claims preparation and management
