Operating Rooms are the engine of a hospital and its financial success is built around effective perioperative throughput. Since Perioperative Services typically accounts for over 60% of a hospital’s bottom line, it is imperative to improve performance within the operating room environment.

FTI CONSULTING APPROACH

FTI Consulting applies a systematic approach to streamline OR operations, improve throughput, and maximize OR capacity for growth by implementing comprehensive solutions inside and outside the OR. FTI’s goal is to increase patient, physician and staff satisfaction while improving quality, safety, and bottom line results for the hospital or health system.

The Perioperative Services team of FTI Consulting is comprised of industry experts with significant strategic, clinical, and information systems experience across the perioperative continuum. We partner with you to provide comprehensive solutions in each of the foundational phases of Perioperative Services described below.
