"We live in the selfie age where we can broadcast our thoughts around the globe. What we choose to focus our messages on is up to us. I'm motivated working in a culture with such a strong focus on serving others. The FTI Consulting Corporate Citizenship Program magnifies our choices in the communities where we live and work."

"Corporate Citizenship at FTI Consulting is a thriving and exciting part of the Company, which I strongly believe not only engages our professionals, but makes a significant positive impact in the communities in which we work."

It's great that the Company supports professionals to volunteer for causes they care about and rewards fundraising through matched giving. I have felt a really positive culture shift since FTI Consulting launched a revamped global Corporate Citizenship program in 2017, and I'm sure this momentum will continue."

I'm delighted to be part of an organization like FTI Consulting that actively invests in corporate citizenship and truly seeks to empower our people to support causes that matter most to them. In Hong Kong, organized volunteer opportunities both enable us to support vulnerable communities, and bring FTI Consulting colleagues together to connect across segments and teams."
