

FTI Consulting Export Control Classification Services

FTI Consulting's Export Controls, Sanctions & Trade Practice (ECST) understands the complexity and importance of determining the correct jurisdiction and classification of items.

Our team regularly provides clients with export classification assessments of varying sizes and complexity. We pride ourselves on being able to approach the classification of items, whether one or thousands, in a practical and thoughtful manner, allowing us to bridge the gap between product design/development and export compliance without placing undue burden on daily business operations.

Our Largest Industry Groups for Export Classification
